August, our Eighth Month . . .

Step Eight: Made a list of all persons we had harmed and became willing to make amends to them all.

Tradition Eight: Overeaters Anonymous should remain forever non-professional, but our service centers may employ special workers.

Daily Meditations – from A New Beginning

“I may indeed be very busy, but I won't have a life if I don't put my program first.” - p. 14

We're not unlovable because we have this disease; love is the very thing we need in order to recover.” -- p. 35

Someone told me that we are babies in OA for five years. That's a comfort and a reminder that growth will continue as long as I'm working the Steps. -- p. 51

Our Voices

Prompts for August:

- Because one size does not fit all, what does recovery look like for you in program? Help us understand.
- Which quote from program helps you on a regular basis? How?

I finished knitting a hat for my sponsor the other day while on the phone to a meeting – distance delivery. I call it The Dancing Ladies hat because the old Norwegian pattern has the ladies kicking up their heels as they circle the garment. They make me think of our Meeting, learning the steps and finding joy in OA unity.

It seems to me that knitting is my meditation these days. A bit every day and things get finished. I even asked for help with the cotton yarn, which I haven't worked with often. So, in this project I practiced the Tools, meditated on the process of recovery and in every stitch a prayer for my sponsor. One stitch isn't much, but it is a step. Taking one after another gets the project closer to being a garment that will serve a purpose.

Sometimes I have to backtrack, frog as it is known among knitters, because you ripit, ripit, and knit up those steps again for a different and better result. There are techniques in knitting that experienced knitters share with novices and each other. We have to keep the stitches on the needles and not drop them, lest the project completely unravel. But when that happens we can cast on and start again. There are few mistakes that are irreparably disastrous and repetition creates the fabric that is beautiful or strong or useful, or all three.

And so it is with my OA fellows. We share Tools and Steps . . . our strength, hope, and experience. Little by little we see the pattern made by steps repeated around the circle. Beauty and meaning emerge in our work together over time.

-- Anonymous in Alaska

After 36 years in OA active recovery and 9 years without a binge, my recovery is ongoing. Another person on the outside looking in may ask, "Isn't that boring? Aren't you tired of it all?"

My answer is that without continuing to attend meetings, without keeping in touch with my two (or more) sponsors, without following my basic food plan as best I can, without sponsoring others & doing service, my life could be far worse: I could resume weight gain, I could resume feeling sick, I could resume spoiling relationships with self-seeking & self-centeredness. I could stop being physically fit.

I'm not willing to find out what would happen, however. I know that what I'm doing is working. It includes taking my regularly negative mind back through the steps, (multiple step 10's) to keep bringing me back to center. Bringing myself back to trusting HP, back to being effective, back to being happy, on a regular & as-needed basis. I WILL keep coming back.

SERENITY

S- silence opening a space for God/HP's voice

E- earnestness in seeking our spiritual path

R- respite from the insanity of compulsive eating

E- eagerness in applying the 12 Steps and Traditions to daily life

N- nearness of our Creator

I- intuition comes as we Pause and Pray

T- taking time to free one's mind from worry, fear and anger

Y- yippee, recovery

The role serenity plays in my Program is a daily touchstone to remind me that I am not in control, that God/HP is, and that changes will keep coming as I reach and pray for them.

The benefits of serenity include a peaceful stance in my world, less anger, less hatred, less conflict, less harm, less weight, as well as more JOY, more LOVE, more compassion, more health, and more service to God and others.

The Serenity Prayer helps me MOST when I do use it. The disease pops up quicker than the Prayer. One habit I am cultivating is to always say a Serenity Prayer when I make an OA outreach call with the person I have called so that we end the call on the common ground of our OA solution.

-- Anonymous in Alaska

Character Defect

My most annoying CD is self-sufficiency instead of reliance on HP/God. Going this alone is futile. Rejecting the help of others and God/HP is a harm-filled way to continue living. Thinking, "I've got this," instead of "WE do recover" usually leads me back to the disease and away from HP. It takes away from my HP. It takes a level of humility, as well as lots of courage to reach out and take another COE's hand and embark on our recovery path. Praying to have HP/God remove this character defect is a huge step in the right direction. Acting as if I have total reliance on HP/God is another good beginning point. Surrendering to HP/God and trusting in that reliance on HP/God is a good way to respond.

Service

I was taught early in my recovery that OA is a business as well as a recovery program. Those who serve are a part of the business side of OA. My service in OA is a part of my recovery. If I serve not only help or further my own recovery, but it also helps make recovery a possibility for others. For example, if I am a group secretary, by arriving to the meeting 15 or so minutes before the meeting begins, to unlock the door, set-up, make coffee, and put out the literature I provide an opportunity for others to share their recovery. If I am a group treasurer by paying the rent and other bills, and I split our 7th Tradition 60%/30%/10% (60% to our intergroup, 30% to WSO, and 10% to our region) so we can have a meeting location and other service bodies can help spread the message and make recovery possible for me and others. And by serving others, I get something from the experience.

If I am asked to serve, I always accept. However, I do not accept a service position lightly. I am not accepting a title or a position of power; instead, I accept the duties and responsibilities. I become a servant. It is a position of trust. Members have deemed me responsible to executive their needs for the meeting. Members depend upon those who serve to carry out the business side of OA. If the duties and responsibilities are not being accomplished the members, group, intergroup, region, and WSO suffers. I never accept a position just for a “title”, “prestige”, or for “power” (our “leader” is God working through us, according to Tradition 2). I want to serve, to give back to OA, because of my recovery.

Sure, it is volunteer work. We are not paid for our service (unless according to Tradition 8 it is a special service; auditor, webmaster, office manager, etc.). However, if I accept the position, then I have always felt I should perform the duties and responsibilities correctly and as outlined by the group, intergroup, or region. I do not do it when I “have the time.” If my life has become too busy or I cannot keep my commitment to do the service then I need to step down. Again, OA is a business as well as a recovery program.

I do my best to complete the duties and responsibilities of the position so OA can function. If bills are paid, mail picked up and distributed, monthly newsletter published and distributed, current group information acquired, group steering meetings or intergroup chaired, committee responsibilities met, or the simple unlocking the meeting door then the recovery of others and me suffers. OA is a business as well as a recovery program.

I learned how to be responsible in OA. At first, members trusted me with small tasks like setting up chairs, putting out literature, etc. Eventually, members elected me as the group secretary. As I demonstrated responsible behavior, they continued to trust me with other service positions. Never did a sponsor push me or force me into doing service. It is a program of attraction, not promotion; I have to be attracted to serve because of my recovery. I have to be willing to give back to the program and members have to trust me enough to elect me into a position of trust.

Again, OA is a business as well as a recovery program. In the program, there are no musts. I can use the program or not. No one tells me how quickly I must recover, how many meetings I must attend, what step I should be on; I just need a desire to stop eating compulsively, that is the only requirement for membership. However, if I serve (in any capacity) then, because it is a business, there are musts. A group secretary must unlock the meeting location door so a meeting can take place. A group treasurer must pay the bills so a meeting has a location to meet.

If I accept a service position then I must perform the duties spelled out in the group conscience at a steering meeting, intergroup, region, or WSBC. I am a servant, not a leader. I do not decide how I serve, or the duties I perform, the group conscience decides. I am grateful for the 12 Traditions. I try to apply them both inside and outside OA. I am grateful for the OA Group Handbook and the other literature that explains the business aspect of OA. I am grateful for our bylaws, policies and procedures explaining the service positions and all the hard work that went into creating these documents.

Lastly, I am grateful to my sponsors, Bill W., Rozanne S., and all the long-timers in my life who taught me how to serve. My first sponsor would tell me repeatedly, the most selfish thing I could do is come to OA, recover from compulsive overeating, and never give back to the program, to serve. However, I would add that it is just as selfish and irresponsible to accept a service position, but never or rarely perform the duties and responsibilities, or accepting a service position, but defiantly rejecting the group conscience, bylaws, policies and procedures, and Traditions. Again, OA is a business as well as a recovery program, and my as well as everyone's service provides an opportunity for others and myself to recover. Together we get better!

Ask-It-Basket

~~from Ask It Basket and Archive, oa.org

Q: I would like to start a meditation meeting. Can you tell me where to find a suggested meditation meeting format?

A: The lack of a meditation meeting format on oa.org means there is no OA-approved version.

According to Tradition Four, your group is autonomous and may decide in a group conscience meeting to create a new meditation meeting format, possibly by adapting one of the suggested formats available on the OA website in Group Support.

Another suggestion is to adapt the format that was used during the meditation workshop held at the Region Seven Convention a few years ago. The leader opened with the Serenity Prayer, gave a brief introduction to meditation, and then led us through her own guided meditation. The meditation lasted ten or fifteen minutes. I recall there was time to share experiences afterward.

You could also read from Step Eleven in the Twelve and Twelve books from either AA or OA. Both books are OA-approved.

AAI Summary Reports (in full)

Chair's Report

August 1, 2015

We have had difficulties with our web host. I have tried contacting the owners, but I haven't received very much help. They have updated their software and one of the owners has left the business. However, the real problem is that we were using 16 g of disk space, but we are allotted 2.5 g. I reduced it down to 4.5 g. In the past, the owner of the web hosting business (the one who left) would increase our allotment when we needed additional space, and he would do it within minutes. We send huge files, which takes disk space.

According to an AAI policy and procedure, in an emergency the AAI Chair can make a decision to resolve a situation. Even though I do not like acting without the decision of AAI, I decided to migrate our site to a new web host. I researched the possible web hosts, became informed of the top 10 rated web hosts, made a comparison of them, and decided upon one that has more services and options, costs less, offers unlimited disk space and email accounts, and is rated highly for their customer service. Again, I truly believe in our 12 Traditions, especially Traditions 2, 9, and 12, but we now rely heavily on our domain, and I felt we faced an emergency. I did contact the executive officers for their feedback and feelings about migrating to a new host.

I want to commend Gail F and all the members of the retreat committee. As per your decision to give the committee authority to determine the theme, speaker, and location of this year retreat, the committee has stepped up to the responsibility. The committee will be proposing a flyer, cost, and layout of the room. The committee will also be proposing other factors of the retreat. I know they are also beginning the work for next year retreat(s).

As per our policies and procedures, I have asked David, our Technology Committee Chair, to reapply with Overeaters Anonymous for the use of the OA logo for our logo. If we are reapproved this year, then we will not reapply until 2017. Thank you David! By the way, the technology committee needs two members for it to be a committee. The webmaster is on the committee, but he is a non-voting member.

I have tried to contact officers who have resigned or I believe have resigned to obtain manuals AAI purchased for their position and keys, but I haven't heard back with them. AAI has experienced this situation in the past. Jody J will propose a policy and procedure to address this problem. AAI has decided to purchase jump drives and other items for officers to use in the performing their position. However, if someone resigns or at the end of his or her term does not turn in the items (checkbook, checks, jump drive, keys, etc) then AAI cannot function well. AAI is a business. As a business, certain duties and responsibilities need to be done so we can carry the message of the 12 Steps and 12 Traditions of OA, or at least make carrying the message of the 12 Steps and 12 Traditions of OA possible.

In the program, in our recovery, no one can determine our course. No one places expectations on us as far as our recovery. However, can the same be said of us who serve? Again, AAI is a business, the business side of OA, as is a steering meeting at a group, region, and WSO. It is a business with only one leader: our Higher Power working through us. As servants, which we are, we serve others, those who have elected us. We are elected to positions of trust, positions with duties and responsibilities determined not by the one elected, but by those who elected us. Traditions 2, 9, and 12 remind us that we serve, we don't lead. Part of being a servant is to be responsible; to perform the duties determined by a group conscience, in a group, intergroup, region, or WSO. We are elected to positions of trust, not so that we have a title or a position, but instead, to perform the duties and responsibilities bestowed upon us. I hope I have served you well; performing the duties and responsibilities, which you determined, of the AAI Chair.

I am grateful to serve you.

Retreat Committee Chair Report

August 1, 2015

The retreat committee met on July 15 to discuss the October 2015 retreat. We discussed the Flier for the retreat, which looks really good. We also talked about the following issues relating to the retreat: We discussed passing the basket and collecting 7th tradition several times during the retreat instead of charging a registration fee. That way folks could give as much as they could afford and people would not have to ask for scholarships to attend. We decided to propose to AAI of passing the basket instead of charging members a set fee.

We also discussed paying for airline tickets for both Ira and his wife, and he could reimburse us for his wife after he arrived. That way they could travel together as she plans to accompany him. We decided to propose AAI buy both tickets.

We talked about no clothes exchange or other fund raising events, trying to keep this retreat strictly one to where we focus our recoveries without too many distractions. We decided to propose to AAI that we have no fund raising at the retreat.

We discussed trying to provide a banquet for Saturday evening meal but thought it would entail too much detail work and with the many varied food requirements, thought it would prove too difficult, so people can purchase meals at the Hotel or bring their own meals.

The Theme of the Retreat is Embracing the Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions. It was discussed how best to present this material and agreed that it would be good to present the Traditions along with the corresponding steps. We will need to discuss this with Ira to see what he is most comfortable with.

The following is a tentative schedule for the retreat:

Friday

7:00pm to 8:45pm – Introductions and Ira tells his story]

8:45pm to 9:00pm – Serenity Prayer and 7TH tradition basket
